

Distance Education Technology Requirements – Aveda Arts & Sciences Institute Minneapolis

This school has been approved by the state regulating agency and accrediting body, NACCAS, to offer a portion of the program via distance education. Classes utilizing distance education will be delivered live using teleconferencing. You have been provided an iPad as part of the student kit; however, you will also need to have internet capabilities to access the classes.